Horizons Board of Directors Names New Executive Director

At the November 13, 2007 meeting of the Horizons, Atlanta Board of Directors, the Board voted to hire Scott L. Tucker as the new Executive Director. Scott has worked with Horizons in a variety of previous capacities, including as teaching assistant, swim coordinator, and database coordinator. He is an alumnus of Holy Innocents' Episcopal School, completed his undergraduate studies at Wake Forest University, and holds a Master of Divinity from Columbia Theological Seminary. Scott has enjoyed his first few months as Executive Director, and he is working hard to ensure the continued success of Horizons.

Horizons Board of Directors Welcomes New Members

In January and February, the Horizons, Atlanta Board of Directors welcomed four new members: Barbara Aiken, who serves as the Chief Development/Marketing Officer for YWCA of Greater Atlanta, Kimberly A. Bland, who is a CPA with Smith & Howards, Brandon Downs, who works in Private Wealth Management at SunTrust Bank, and Chris Pomar, who is the Director of Admissions at Holy Innocents' Episcopal School. Horizons' Board of Directors is currently composed of sixteen individuals from a variety of backgrounds who are committed to the success of Horizons, Atlanta. Directors serve three-year terms and show their support of Horizons by aiding in fundraising efforts, serving on Board Committees, regularly attending meetings, and serving as ambassadors of Horizons to the community.

Horizons Holiday Party a Wonderful Success

On Sunday, December 19, 2007, twenty nine Horizons students and their families gathered together in Holy Innocents' Episcopal School's Porter Dining Hall to celebrate the Holiday Season. Everyone enjoyed snacking on cookies and juice while making colorful decorations, singing, and creating Christmas Cards that were sent to the Ronald McDonald House on Peachtree Dunwoody Road. No Holiday Party would be complete without presents, and Santa Claus made a guest appearance to distribute gift cards to the students. Executive Director, Scott Tucker, visited students who were unable to attend to see that they received gift cards as well.
